PREFACE.

This little book needs no apology. I knew little of my relations, and nothing of my ancestors. The Baldwin Genealogy, by Judge Charles C. Baldwin, helped me, but its account of the younger generations was very incomplete. I began with the descendants of my great-grandfather, but the search has gradually extended to the descendants of his brothers and sisters.

Many people have aided. Miss Alice E. Baldwin, of Harwinton, Conn., has done the most.

Probably there are errors. I should like to be told of them, or helped to the omitted dates. I hope to issue supplements from time to time, bringing the lines down to date, and tracing more fully the descendants of the brothers and sisters of Captain Joseph Baldwin.

GEO. E. BALDWIN,
Forestville, N. Y.

Oct. 1, 1907.

EXPLANATIONS.

The generations are numbered in descent from the original settler, John¹ of Milford, Conn. Thus the writer is George⁸ Samuel⁷ Erastus⁶ Joseph⁵ Aaron⁴ Israel³ George² John¹. This means he is George Baldwin, son of Samuel, who was son of Erastus, etc. The last name is never given when it is Baldwin, invariably given otherwise except among descendants of brothers and sisters of Joseph⁵.

I have used these abbreviations:

b. born	y. young
m. married	ch. child or children
d. died	un. unmarried.

I was unable to obtain a few dates in the records of Capt. Joseph Baldwin's descendants. I made no attempt to secure dates among the descendants of his brothers and sisters, but have used those furnished.

A + after a name means information concerning that person will be found farther on. Look for the number.

BALDWINOLOGY.

The name is Teutonic and means "Bold winner." There is good authority for "speedy winner." I find no authority for "Bold in battle." The name is yet found in Flanders, Germany, Normandy, Denmark, and Northern Italy.

Most of the Baldwins in America are descendants of emigrants from County Bucks (Buckinghamshire), England, and the great majority are descendants of nine men named below. There are independent branches of Baldwins in America from Yorkshire, England; probably from Devonshire, England; from Germany and Denmark. The name is very old, appearing in England as early as 672.

The nine men mentioned above are Richard of Milford, Conn.; his brother John, of Stonington, Conn.; John, of Norwich, Conn., a relative of the first two; Timothy, Nathaniel, and Joseph, brothers, and all of Milford, though Joseph soon removed to Hadley, Mass.; John of Milford, our ancestor, of whom more later; Henry of Woburn, Mass., and his brother, John of Billerica, Mass. The first seven came to Milford, Conn., in the ship Martin, during the summer of 1638, and all formed a part of the great Puritan exodus.

Many have written me concerning our coat of arms. Being Americans, we have no right to a coat of arms. Being descendants of John of Milford, we cannot tell what coat of arms our ancestors had a right to use till his English descent be traced. But here is the coat of arms which he probably possessed: "Ar., six oak leaves in pairs, two in chief and one in base vert, stalks sa., their points downward. Crest, a squirrel sejant or."

Don't use it.

A LONG LOOK BACK.

I found the following in the "Tuttle Genealogy." It interests all of us, and so I print it here. I have worked several days in the State library at Albany confirming it, and have every reason to believe it authentic.

The numbers refer to generations. That is, 2 Dodo was son of 1 Pepin, etc.

1. Pepin the Old, b. 560, Mayor of Austrasia, d. 639.

36. Mary Bruen, b. June 14, 1622, came to America with her half-brother Obadiah, and became the second wife of John Baldwin of Milford, Conn, whose record follows.

Baldwin Family.

JOHN BALDWIN 1

Came to Milford, Conn., in the ship Martin, in the summer of 1638. He undoubtedly was from Aston Clinton, County Bucks, England, or its immediate vicinity, but his English ancestry has not yet been clearly traced. I believe that a careful search among the old English records will bring it to light, and I propose to make that search as soon as possible.

John was not a church member at first, and so is enrolled among the "settlers" and not among the "free planters" of Milford. He joined the church Mar. 19, 1648. His first wife's first name was Mary, but I find nothing more concerning her except that she was the mother of five sons and one daughter. He m. 2nd Mary Bruen, whose illustrious descent is traced in the preceding pages. She was the mother of four sons and three daughters, and d. Sept. 2, 1670. John was buried June 21, 1681.

Among the descendants of John Baldwin's older children are U. S. Senator John W. Daniel of Virginia, Matthias Baldwin, founder of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Judge Henry Baldwin of the U. S. Supreme Court, 1829-1844, and Abraham Baldwin of Georgia, one of the signers of the U. S. Constitution. The eleventh child of John Baldwin was

b. in 1662, settled in Branford, Conn., in 1686, built a house there which still stands and is owned by one of his descendants, joined the church in 1693, m. Deborah Rose, became deacon about 1715. He was a blacksmith. Died Oct. 26, 1728, leaving a large estate. Most of the present inhabitants of Branford and North Branford are among the descendants of his four sons and six daughters, of whom the second son was

ISRAEL 3

b. in Branford, Conn., Dec. 13, 1694, m. Dinah Butler, Dec. 10, 1718. Settled in North Branford at Sibbes Hill. Joined the church in 1715, became deacon at North Branford about 1745. He was a farmer. d. July 22, 1765. Buried in the old cemetery, North Branford. He was the father of six sons and five daughters. The second son was

b. Sept. 3, 1724. Remained in North Branford as a farmer. Deacon in same church as his father. With his sons Moses, Aaron, and Joseph, he served in the Revolution. Tradition says he and two brothers served in the French and Indian war, but I can find no proofs. His wife was Sarah Frisbie. He died

Mar. 24, 1800, and is buried in the old cemetery at North Branford. Several anecdotes concerning him are still with us. His children were:

Aaron, b. Dec. 17, 1749, d. Jan. 17, 1750.

Moses, b. Dec. 17, 1749.

Sarah, b. Dec. 17, 1751.

Tryphena, b. June 25, 1753.

Aaron, b. Jan. 5, 1755.

Joseph, b. Dec. 26, 1758.

Jonathan, b. Dec. 9, 1760.

Abigail, b. Dec. 27, 1763.

Mary, b. Jan. 18, 1766.

David, b. Aug. 25, 1769, d. Sept. 1, 1769.

Jerusha, b. July 22, 1771, m. Eber Linsley,
Nov. 5, 1830, d. Mar. 2, 1860, no ch.

Lament, b. Feb. 13, 1774.

When I began this work, I expected to trace only the descendants of Joseph. That explains why his record appears first in the following pages. The records of his brothers and sisters are to be found in the closing pages.

JOSEPH 5

b. North Branford, Conn., Dec. 26, 1758. He learned the blacksmith's trade. Early in 1776 he enlisted in the Connecticut militia, Capt. Hall's Co., Col. Smith's regiment, and served as a private for six months. Aug. 12, 1776, he reenlisted in the fifth company of the thirteenth Conn. regiment, commanded by Col. Hinman. The records show he marched for New York on the date of his enlistment and that his service terminated Sept. 14, 1776. He next appears as a serjeant of Capt. Witter's company, Col. Selden's regiment, Continental troops, but there is no record of his enlistment or discharge. On a "roll of the mileage money" dated Dec. 30, 1776, his name is found and he is declared entitled to £1, 5s., 5d., for 8 days, 153 miles. In May, 1777, he enlisted as a private in Capt. Collin's company, Col. Ely's regiment, for 7 months. On June 1, 1778, he enlisted as Orderly Sergeant in Capt. Chapman's company, Col. McLellan's regiment, for 3 months, and at the end of that time re-enlisted in the same company for a like period. In May, 1779, he enlisted as a serjeant in Capt. Yeates' company, Col. Mead's regiment, and served 9 months. Later—the dates are missing—he was "serjeant over twelve men, guarded the coast in Branford, Conn." On Oct. 17, 1780, he was commissioned Lieutenant in the 5th company of Conn. militia by Samuel Huntington, Governor of Connecticut; Oct. 25, 1786, he was commissioned Ensign; Jan. 17, 1788, Captain. I have the first two of these commissions. June 11, 1781, he m. Rosanna, daughter of Edward Meloy, of New Haven. He followed his trade of blacksmith at North Branford, and the following children were born there:

6. Wyllys +
7. Fanny, b. Oct. 5, 1785, d. Oct. 15, 1795.
8. Statira +
9. Harriet, b. June 17, 1790, d. Oct. 10, 1795.
10. Joseph, b. July 13, 1792, d. Oct. 17, 1795.
11. Erastus +
12. Joseph +
13. John +

In 1804 Joseph removed to Harwinton, Conn., where he followed his trade at a place midway between Campville and East Litchfield. He d. Sept. 29, 1825, and is buried in the South Cemetery, Harwinton, Conn.

Rosanna Meloy, wife of Capt. Joseph Baldwin, was b. Feb. 6, 1761, the daughter of Edward and Mary (Parmalee) Meloy. Edward came to America from the North of Ireland as a stowaway, and became a wealthy merchant in New Haven, Conn. His house and warehouses were pillaged by the British when they sacked New Haven during the Revolution. The family Bible, rescued from the flames, of which it bears traces, is in the possession of Miss Electa Baldwin of East Litchfield, Conn. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Baldwin continued to reside at the "old homestead" with her son Erastus. Oct. 23, 1838, she applied for a pension, and later secured it. She was of an intensely religious nature. She d. Sept. 30, 1843, and is buried beside her husband. Many traditions concerning her, her father and his family, and her husband, still remain among us.

THE SIXTH GENERATION.

FAMILY I.

[6.] Wyllys⁶ (*Joseph*⁵), b. N. Branford, Conn., Mar. 10, 1783. Learned the hatter's trade. Two years at sea when young. I have a sheet dated Feb. 1, 1801, of a record he kept while at sea. In 1803 he is in New York and writes home from Cherry Valley. He was working there as a hatter. * He returned to Conn. shortly after his father moved to Harwinton. He soon returned to New York, and in Oct., 1805, writes from Starkey, stating he is married. He m. Phoebe (Velsey) Kinner, a widow with four children. Lived at Burdett, Cayuga, and Watkins. He had a hat store at the latter place. Bought and sold real estate, horses, cattle, etc. Enlisted for the war of 1812, but saw no active service. FAMILY V.

[13.] John⁶ (*Joseph*⁵), b. Oct. 13, 1799, by all odds the most distinguished grandchild of Dea. Aaron Baldwin. Received a better education than his brothers and sister. Taught school in Maryland, New Jersey and New York. m. Mary D. Chappel Jan. 31, 1828, and the same year removed to Berea, Ohio. Here he, Rev. H. O. Sheldon, Rev. Jas. Gilruth and others in 1836 founded a "model community" on the "Brook Farm" plan. It lasted only two or three years. He made the first grindstone ever formed from the famous Berea quarries and became wealthy from subsequent manufacture and sale of these. Was one of the promoters of the Columbus-Cleveland railroad. Founded Baldwin University at Berea. Baldwin, Kas., is named after him, he being interested in that section in the days of the Kansas-Nebraska troubles. He was instrumental in the founding of Baker University there, it being the first college west of the Missouri. Baldwin, Louisiana, where he developed large sugar interests still held by his descendants and where he established a school, is also named for him. He liberally endowed the Baldwin High Schools connected with the Richmond Town M. E. mission church at Bangalore, South India. A prominent layman in the affairs of the Methodist church. Known as "Father Baldwin." Eccentric, careless as to his personal appearance. Numerous stories are current in Berea and vicinity concerning him. He visited the other Baldwins and Morses far more than any other of his generation, and I find nearly all the eighth generation knowing and revering him. d. Dec. 21, 1884, buried Berea, O., ch.:

THE SEVENTH GENERATION.

FAMILY VI.

[14.] Samuel Griffin⁷ (Wyllys⁶ Joseph⁵), b. Burdette, N. Y., Oct. 12, 1806. Was in Conn. often during his early days and many stories are yet told there of his shrewdness and sharp business deals. He m. Susan Lambert of Brockport, N. Y., Sept. 3, 1843 and soon after removed to Cleveland. It is said he reached Cleveland with only $2 and a set of carpenter's tools but I know too much of his early days to believe it. He was a shrewd speculator, investor and money lender, and became very wealthy, being well known in Cleveland for his eccentric ways, sharp business deals, and benevolences. He m. 2nd Carrie Schwab, July 16, 1890. d. childless Feb. 22, 1893, leaving an estate of about a million dollars. His widow, "Aunt Carrie," a very able strong-minded woman, resides 297 St. Clair St., Cleveland.

FAMILY XXII.

[37.] Electa⁷ (*Erastus*⁶), b. July 7, 1842, unm., lives East Litchfield, Conn.

Aunt Electa remained at home until after her father's death when she sold the "old homestead" and soon after moved to her present home. Her mother had gathered many Baldwin and Meloy traditions from the widow of Capt. Joseph Baldwin, and transmitted them to Aunt Electa, who still retains them. She has Edward Meloy's Bible, Capt. Joseph Baldwin's account books, his commissions in the Conn. Militia, and many letters of Wyllys⁶, John⁶, Samuel Griffin⁷, Harvey⁷ and Willis⁷. She was the stay of her father and mother in their declining years, took care of Uncle George in his last illness, and is today a source of help and encouragement to all around her. No one ever knew her who did not learn to love her. She is not an easy letter writer, but any of us who can visit her will be wonderfully repaid. If we do not visit her often, many of our older traditions will die with her.

THE DESCENDANTS OF THE OTHER CHILDREN OF DEA. AARON BALDWIN.

In the beginning I had no intention of tracing the lines given below. I simply drifted into it while seeking the descendants of Joseph⁵ and the information obtained was too valuable to be omitted. I have put considerable time on these brothers and sisters of Joseph⁵ the last few months. I expect in time to trace out the few threads which I do not yet know. Many dates are omitted. I give what have been furnished.
